

I think that we need groups like Sinclair to let everyones voice be heard not just a few singers and stars that think they are the voice of America. There must be something to these Vietnam Vets story are the Democrates would not be running scared trying to shut them up. I am from Texas and I am sorry that the Dixie Chicks are from here. They have embarrassed not only the State of Texas but their families to. I was raised that whoever holds the office of President of the United States, either Democrate or Republican, should be shown the respect due that office. The campaign for President has become so out of control on both sides. I am sick of hearing the trash tossed around by both parties, we need to stick to the facts and not the lies to be elected. I know who I will vote for because I try not to listen to the lies and mud tossing but what about the young new voters that are having to listen to the garbage on both sides and to have to decide which is telling the truth. It is great that people are using the air ways to urge voters to get out and vote but I do not agree with urging them to vote your way.
